Clothing and footwear retail market in Russia 2009

Luxury market insights and development
forecasts for 2009-2011

Publication date: June 2009

Language: English

Word from Author:

In line with the global crisis, the weakening of the rouble together with a fall in the growth rate of average incomes will result in a sharp downturn in the retail sector in Russia in 2009. Restricted access to financing has already forced Russian retailers to reconsider their development strategies.

However, it is worth noting that, despite the economic downtrend, some retailers, including those of foreign origin, do continue their expansion in the Russian market.

Małgorzata Machnicka, Head Retail Analyst
