IT market in Russia 2010

Market analysis and development forecasts for 2010-2014

---

Publication date: May 2010

Language: English

Word from the Author:

Russian IT market is slowly recovering after difficult period of the last 18 months or so. Local hardware distribution market suffered the most due to crisis. Software and IT services segments moved even stronger towards IT outsourcing model, although demand for IT exports also declined last year. At present first signs of recovery can be seen. Macroeconomic indicators are bouncing back and overall climate in the IT branch is definitely much better than a year ago.

Pawel Olszynka, IT&Telecom Head Analyst
