

In vitro diagnostics market in Poland 2010

Development forecasts for 2010-2012

Languages: English, Polish

Date: January 2010

Plus: Laboratory diagnostics – companies directory

Word from the coordinator:

The laboratory diagnostics market in Poland is in the initial stages of development, as confirmed by the fairly low per capita expenditure on laboratory diagnostics: in 2008 it was only €7, while the EU-27 is €19. Given the fact that Poles will come to spend more on diagnostics, we expect the market to fare well, forecasting an annualized growth rate in the neighbourhood of 10% in the coming years. Additional factors that will contribute to the market's growth will be the development of technologies as well as the expansion of private healthcare services.

Monika Stefanczyk, Head Pharmaceutical Market Analyst
